Specificity	Mouse anti Human lamin A/C antibody recognizes lamin A/C, also known as 70 kDa lamin, lamin, lamin A/C-like 1, prelamin-A/C and renal carcinoma antigen NY-REN-32. The nuclear lamina consists of a two-dimensional matrix of proteins located next to the inner nuclear membrane. The lamin family of proteins make up the matrix and are highly conserved in evolution. During mitosis, the lamina matrix is reversibly disassembled as the lamin proteins are phosphorylated. Lamin proteins are thought to be involved in nuclear stability, chromatin structure and gene expression. Vertebrate lamins consist of two types, A and B. Alternative splicing results in multiple transcript variants. Mutations in the LMNA gene lead to several diseases: Emery-Dreifuss muscular dystrophy, familial partial lipodystrophy, limb girdle muscular dystrophy, dilated cardiomyopathy, Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease, and Hutchinson-Gilford progeria syndrome (provided by RefSeq, Apr 2012). Mouse anti Human lamin A/C antibody detects a bands of 63 and 74 kDa. The antibody has been extensively validated for western blotting using whole cell lysates.
